

COM5940 NEW MEDIA BUSINESS MODEL & INNOVATION: LESSON 6 - FROM SQL TO NOSQL AND BIG DATA

Bernard Suen
Center for Entrepreneurship
Chinese University of Hong Kong

Today's agenda.

- 1. Introduction to Big Data and Data Warehouse concepts.
- 2. Cloud infrastructure and PaaS.
- 3. Introduction to WordPress.
- 4. Implementation of 3C (content, community, and commercialisation) in WordPress.

Airtable Automation Recap

What is API?

API, Application Program Interface, is a protocol for exchanging data (數據傳送協定) between software applications so as to extend the functionality and reach beyond one's original scope and targets.

Case Study: Nike Plus

Source: Nike YouTube Promo

What is a data-driven product (e.g. Nike+) ?

1. The platform is the product. And the data provides the glue to link everybody in the platform eco-system together to create values.
2. The data makes the product smarter and more connected. Being smarter allows the product to improve its performance over time through analytics and being more connected allows the product to amplify the network effect by linking with more stakeholders and complementary products.
3. The API based services form an extended data infrastructure to capture values created by other stakeholders within the eco-system.

Two key API questions to ask:

Which external API services should I leverage and what internal API services should I develop and share to build network effects and to make our product smarter and more connected?

Business partners requesting your services through API requests.

Micro-services form the foundation for providing features needed by the application to serve the ultimate users/customers

Micro-services

In the last 25 years, the rise of the web, mobile internet, social media, e-commerce, and IoT has placed tremendous demand on outsourcing and cloud services. The continuous digital transformation and outbreak of COVID19 have accelerated the trend.

OSS = Open-source software

IT outsourcing has continued to increase as hardware becomes more commoditised and software becomes more open and free. The real money to be made has shifted to services.

Why We Built Pantheon With Containers Instead of Virtual Machines

By Zack Rosen September 26, 2013 [!\[\]\(579f9827e14d457507d4b4c7637f8da8_img.jpg\)](#) [!\[\]\(ae49e70d35d83627fdf314683c73b8d1_img.jpg\)](#) [!\[\]\(a766d8a694c73e9ed3d4133b0d2606ca_img.jpg\)](#)Approximate Reading Time: 5 Minutes

We believe that the future cloud will run on containers, not virtual machines. Pantheon's container based infrastructure is a huge departure from traditional virtual machine and server based "hosting" model. This is why:

Pantheon currently runs more than 70,000 custom WordPress and Drupal sites. Developers can install and develop their own code, modules, and themes — and we run their sites at scale on our unified platform. Each "site" actually has a dev site, a test site, and a live site. Some even have many dev sites using Multidev. This means we run three or more custom-code applications per site. When you add all of them up you get more than 210,000 custom WordPress and Drupal web applications running on Pantheon. If you count Drupal alone, this makes Pantheon the single largest Drupal infrastructure in the world.

Each application has to be secure and resource isolated. If Pantheon was built with "hosting" architecture each site would have to be run on its own separate virtual machine (unless we resorted to shared hosting, which would provide terrible service for our customers). A custom Drupal app needs to run on at least an Amazon EC2 m1.medium to keep from keeling over, and that's just for a development environment.

So, why containers? If we built Pantheon with hosting architecture we would need at least 200,000 virtual machines! Can you imagine running 200,000+ Amazon EC2 m1.medium's all with custom applications? Never mind

SQL

Data uses Schemas

Relations!

Data is distributed across multiple tables

Horizontal scaling is difficult / impossible; Vertical scaling is possible

Limitations for lots of (thousands) read & write queries per second

NoSQL

Schema-less

No (or very few) Relations

Data is typically merged / nested in a few collections

Both horizontal and vertical scaling is possible

Great performance for mass (simple) read & write requests

SQL

Data uses Schemas

Relations!

Data is distributed across multiple tables

Horizontal scaling is difficult / impossible; Vertical scaling is possible

Limitations for lots of (thousands) read & write queries per second

NoSQL

Schema-less

No (or very few) Relations

Data is typically merged / nested in a few collections

Both horizontal and vertical scaling is possible

Great performance for mass (simple) read & write requests

Twenty Eleven

Twenty Eleven uses Sticky Posts to power the Featured Post area on the Showcases page. It also includes a new "Blog" section which allows you to add a featured image and a post title in the Featured Post area. If you add a Featured Image the same size as the Custom Header Image it'll be used as a full-width image link to the post. If your Featured Image is smaller it'll be scaled to the right size of the featured image itself. If you have more than one Featured Post, just scroll up and down to see them all.

Twenty Fifteen

The Myth of the Pier

Arrived after the fall of the Middle Ages, they spent their thousand a spindly pair of legs; the what rapidly distinguished them were the long canes which were fastened to their feet, and all were dressed in black, and were very tall, and were very thin, and even one leg long, more straight, others curved, some were very tall, and others very short, and others very squat.

It happened that the performer who had before formed the base of the Our had quitted the stage, and as, to fill the gaps, very strong and admiring were necessary.

Permalink Settings

WordPress offers you the ability to create a custom URL structure for your permalinks and archives. Custom URL structures can improve the aesthetics, usability, and forward-compatibility of your links. A number of tags are available, and here are some examples to get you started.

Common Settings

Select the permalink structure for your website. Including the `%postname%` tag makes links easy to understand, and can help your posts rank higher in search engines.

Permalink structure

- Plain
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/?p=123`
- Day and name
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/2022/12/09/sample-post/`
- Month and name
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/2022/12/sample-post/`
- Numeric
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/archives/123`
- Post name
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/sample-post/`
- Custom Structure
`https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io`

Available tags:

%year% %monthnum% %day% %hour% %minute% %second% %post_id% %postname% %category% %author%

Optional

If you like, you may enter custom structures for your category and tag URLs here. For example, using `topics` as your category base would make your category links like `https://dev-ssapp.pantheonsite.io/topics/uncategorized/`. If you leave these blank the defaults will be used.

Discussion Settings

Default post settings

- Attempt to notify any blogs linked to from the post
- Allow link notifications from other blogs (pingbacks and trackbacks) on new posts
- Allow people to submit comments on new posts

Individual posts may override these settings. Changes here will only be applied to new posts.

Other comment settings

- Comment author must fill out name and email
- Users must be registered and logged in to comment
- Automatically close comments on posts older than  days
- Show comments cookies opt-in checkbox, allowing comment author cookies to be set
- Enable threaded (nested) comments  levels deep
- Break comments into pages with  top level comments per page and the  page displayed by default

Comments should be displayed with the  comments at the top of each page

Email me whenever

- Anyone posts a comment
- A comment is held for moderation

Before a comment appears

- Comment must be manually approved
- Comment author must have a previously approved comment

Comment Moderation

Hold a comment in the queue if it contains  or more links. (A common characteristic of comment spam is a large number of hyperlinks.)

When a comment contains any of these words in its content, author name, URL, email, IP address, or browser's user agent string, it will be held in the moderation queue. One word or IP address per line. It will match inside words, so "press" will match "WordPress".

Policy Guide

Privacy Settings

As a website owner, you may need to follow national or international privacy laws. For example, you may need to create and display a Privacy Policy. If you already have a Privacy Policy page, please select it below. If not, please create one.

The new page will include help and suggestions for your Privacy Policy. However, it is your responsibility to use those resources correctly, to provide the information that your Privacy Policy requires, and to keep that information current and accurate.

After your Privacy Policy page is set, you should edit it. You should also review your Privacy Policy from time to time, especially after installing or updating any themes or plugins. There may be changes or new suggested information for you to consider adding to your policy.

Edit or preview your Privacy Policy page content. Need help putting together your new Privacy Policy page? Check out our Privacy Policy guide for recommendations on what content to include, along with policies suggested by your plugins and theme.

Widget Areas Block

Widget Areas are global parts in your site's layout that can accept blocks. These vary by theme, but are typically parts like your Sidebar or Footer.

Manage with live preview

Click “+” button to insert additional blocks.

The screenshot shows the WordPress Widgets screen. On the left, there's a sidebar with various menu items. The 'Widgets' item is currently selected. The main area is titled 'Widgets' and has a 'List View' tab selected. A red box highlights the 'Sidebar 1' entry in the list. Below the list, there's a sidebar area labeled 'Sidebar 1' with fields for 'Add label...', 'Optional placeholder...', and 'Add button text...'. Underneath, there are two sections: 'Recent Posts' and 'Recent Comments', each displaying sample content. A red box highlights the '+' button in the footer section. Below the sidebar, there are several footer areas labeled 'Footer 1' through 'Footer 5'. On the right side, there's a sidebar with tabs for 'Widget Areas' and 'Block', and a detailed description of what Widget Areas are. At the bottom right, there's a note with a red box around it: 'Click “+” button to insert additional blocks.'

Return to page or post in which layout can be customised to display chosen sidebar (e.g. Sidebar 1) with the widget blocks.

This screenshot shows the WordPress editor interface. On the left, there's a main content area with a heading 'Hello world!' and a welcome message. On the right, a sidebar settings panel is open. The panel includes sections for desktop, tablet, and mobile layouts, with various options like 'Parent Header' and 'Title'. It also includes sections for 'Post Layout' (with icons for Fullwidth, Left Sidebar, and Right Sidebar), 'Post sidebar' (set to 'Sidebar 1'), 'Content Style' (with 'DEFAULT', 'BOXED', and 'UNBOXED' buttons), 'Content Vertical Padding' (with 'TOP ONLY' and 'BOTTOM ONLY' buttons), 'Show Featured Image' (with 'DEFAULT', 'ENABLE', and 'DISABLE' buttons), and 'Featured Image Position' (with 'DEFAULT', 'ABOVE', 'BEHIND', and 'BELOW' buttons). A red box highlights the 'Sidebar 1' selection in the 'Post sidebar' dropdown. Another red box highlights the 'LEFT SIDEBAR' icon in the 'Post Layout' section. A large red text annotation on the right side of the panel states: 'Return to page or post in which layout can be customised to display chosen sidebar (e.g. Sidebar 1) with the widget blocks.'

The page. It's different from a blog post because it will stay in one place and will show up in your site navigation (in most themes).
with an About page that introduces them to potential site visitors. It might say something like this:
I'm a bike messenger by day, aspiring actor by night, and this is my website. I live in Los Angeles, have a great dog named
I like piña coladas. (And gettin' caught in the rain.)

...or something like this:

The XYZ Doohickey Company was founded in 1971, and has been providing quality doohickeys to the public ever since. Located in Gotham City, XYZ employs over 2,000 people and does all kinds of awesome things for the Gotham community.

On the right, the Chrome DevTools Elements tab is open, showing the page's DOM structure. A red box highlights the class selector 'entry-content-wrap' within the element style panel, which contains the rule `border-style: solid;`. The DevTools also show the computed styles for the element, including `padding: 2rem;`, and the global styles section with `user agent stylesheet`.

Pods are content types that you can customize and define fields for based on your needs. You can choose to create a Custom Post Type, Custom Taxonomy, or Custom Settings Pages for site-specific data. You can also extend existing content types like WP Objects such as Post Types, Taxonomies, Users, or Comments.

Not sure what content type you should use? Check out our Content Type Comparison to help you decide.

Create New

Create entirely new content types using Post Types, Taxonomies, or Custom Settings Pages.

Extend Existing

Extend any existing content type within WordPress, including Post Types (Posts, Pages, etc), Taxonomies (Categories, Tags, etc), Media, Users, or Comments.

Problem Set #3 (Due on Feb 27th)

- 1. Make your COM5961 final project into a PWA.
- 2. Create an Airtable base of keeping count on number of registration and login or perform email confirmation.
- 3. Use Flask REST API request to trigger Airtable automation (i.e. the registration and login will activate Airtable triggers to take action for creating or updating records or sending emails).

Project Progress Report #1

(Due Mar 3rd - Friday)

1. Conduct market/user research and usability study on your chosen project after discussion with Bernard on your proposal (Remember to schedule meeting).
2. Develop project story map and product backlog using the Lean Method (Business Model Canvas and Value Proposition Canvas).
3. Implement the result in Airtable using the SCRUM template with the backlog listed and 1st sprint scheduled (with clear task assignment).
4. Submit status report (minimum 5 pages) with findings. The appendix section of the report should include:
  - Usability test dashboard, usability test script and result (screen capture with audio recording)
  - Business model canvas and value proposition canvas (can be conducted online using Figma Jamboard) related to early adopter segment targeted.
  - Story map with each story card clearly specifying persona, feature (what - gain creator and pain reliever), benefit (why - gain and pain), and acceptance criteria.
5. The report findings should explain clearly the choice of persona segment targeted and how the product backlog is developed and the first sprint is prioritised (with OKR specified).
6. All project communication must be conducted through Airtable so I can be notified.

Problem Set #4

- 1. Create a WordPress website using the Kadence theme and Gutenberg blocks with membership registration/login.
- 2. Provide SEO support with Google Search Console.
- 3. Define conversion goals in Google Analytics and create a campaign to track user acquisition and conversion.

Thank you for your time!
